III. TEACHING AND LEARNING PROCEDURE		NOTES TO TEACHERS
A. Activating Prior Knowledge	Motivation for Subtopic 1 (Produce a Text with Introduction, Body, and Conclusion in conveying Idea: Using Introduction, Body and Conclusion) for Day 1 Show a newspaper, magazine, textbook, recipe etc. Begin by asking: What do we get from these reading materials? (information) Let students share what they already know about informational texts. Ask them to share other examples of informational texts they have encountered or read in the past. Motivation for Subtopic 2 (Identify Real or Make-believe, Fact or Non-fact Images) for Day 2	The following are the suggested motivational activities for each subtopic. Thus, it is emphasized that the teacher is free to make variations on the provided activities for the betterment of the teaching and learning process.

	Picture Study: Show the class a picture of a real tree and a tree with eyes and mouth. Ask them which is real and not real or make-believe. Start a discussion of what they know about being real and not. Motivation for Subtopic 3 (Identify Multimedia Elements: Text – Headlines, Subtitles, Slogans) for Day 3 & 4 Picture Analysis: Tell the students to look at the picture.  Ask: What are the two kids doing? What are they reading? Do you read newspapers too? What helps you easily understand the content of a newspaper that you are reading? (headlines) Introduce slogans as catchy phrases or taglines that are used to promote a product, service, or idea. Talk about them in class. 014 by Department of Education - http://lrmds.c	For the sample of the informational text, see p. 266 of the Learners Material- Northern Philippine Cuisine (Pinakbet or Pakbet) Start the class by showing a sample of an informational text. Then, facilitate the brainstorming about the example.
B. Establishing Lesson Purpose	Establishing Purpose for Subtopic 1 – (Produce a Text with Introduction, Body, and Conclusion in conveying Idea: Using Introduction, Body and Conclusion) for Day 1 1. Lesson Purpose Explain that in this lesson, they will be learning how to write their own informational texts. Emphasize that informational texts provide facts and information about a specific topic. Activity: Game: Memory Cards • Divide the class into two. • Lay down all definition cards on the table. • Give each member of the team a word card and ask them to find the definition on the table.	The following are the suggested activities for each subtopic. Thus, it is emphasized that the teacher is free to make variations on the provided activities for the betterment of the teaching and learning process.

	• The first team to find all the correct definition of their word card wins. 2. Unlocking Content Vocabulary Present the following words and give a brief definition for each: information, text, informational text, introduction of the text, body of the text, conclusion Establishing Purpose for Subtopic 2 (Identify Real or Make-believe, Fact or Non-fact Images) for Day 2 1. Lesson Purpose Ask students if they know the difference between real and make-believe and fact and non-fact. Discuss their understanding and definition. Explain that in this lesson, they will be exploring how to identify and differentiate between real or make-believe and fact or non-fact images. 2. Unlocking Content Vocabulary Present the following words and give a brief definition for each: Image, real, make-believe, fact, non-fact. Use context clues, picture clues etc. to help learners unlock the meaning of the words. Establishing Purpose for Subtopic 3 (Identify Multimedia Elements: Text – Headlines, Subtitles, Slogans) for Day 3 & 4 1. Lesson Purpose The headlines and subtitles in newspaper articles are considered elements of multimedia. They can help learners easily comprehend an article. On the other hand, a slogan catches the reader’s attention. It showcases the message conveyed by a product clearly and makes it easy to remember. 2. Unlocking Content Vocabulary Multimedia is a form of communication that uses a combination of different content forms such as text, audio, images, animations, or video into a single interactive presentation. They contribute to making what you read or watch more meaningful.	These multimedia elements will be discussed thoroughly in this lesson to help learners improve their comprehension. Brainstorm on what children know about the following words. Then give some input for them to further understand the meaning of the words.

	Text is a basic element of multimedia. It involves the use of text types, sizes, colors and background color. Headline is the heading at the top of an article or page in a newspaper or magazine. Subtitle is a subordinate title of a published work or article giving additional information about its content. Let learners read and ponder on the following words and give their own meaning before discussing it further to them. Slogans are commonly placed under a brand name on product packaging or used at the end of a brand's commercial advertisement, a notice or announcement in public promoting a product, service, or event.	Tell learners that Slogans are also multimedia elements which convey a message about a product, service, or cause that it is representing.
C. Developing and Deepening Understanding	Deepening Understanding for Subtopic 1 (Produce a Text with Introduction, Body, and Conclusion in conveying Idea: Using Introduction, Body and Conclusion) for Day 1 1. Explicitation Display or distribute examples of informational texts and briefly discuss their features, such as headings, subheadings, facts, and clear organization. Tell the students that printed materials that give information about a topic are called informational texts. Examples: news articles, travelogues, feature articles, content area materials or textbooks, recipe etc. Here are the procedures in writing an informational text: Choosing a Topic: 1. Guide students in choosing a topic for their informational text. It can be a subject they are interested in, or a topic related to a subject they are currently studying.	For the facilitation of the learning process, the teacher is free to adjust and modify day allocation depending on his/ her pacing as discussions are delivered. Provided as well are suggested activities for each subtopic. Expounding of concepts is advised and provision of more examples is also encouraged. Watch the following videos: Introduction to Writing a Text Episode 1 (What is Informational Writing) at Informational Writing for Kids - Episode 1: What Is It? (youtube.com)

	2. Write a few topic options on the chart paper or board and allow students to choose their preferred topic. Gathering Information: 1. Explain to students that before they can write an informational text, they need to gather accurate and relevant information about their chosen topic. 2. Provide students with resources such as books, websites, or articles related to their topic. 3. Alternatively, you can provide them with pre-selected information or conduct a class discussion to gather information together. 4. Encourage students to take notes or use graphic organizers to organize their information effectively. Planning and Organizing: 1. Discuss with students the importance of planning and organizing their ideas before writing. 2. Model how to create a basic outline or graphic organizer for their informational text. Include headings, subheadings, and bullet points for the main ideas and supporting details. 3. Provide students with a template or guide to help them structure their outline. Based on the video, a simple outline for an informational text can be done this way: I. Introduction II. Body Main Topic Subtopic 1 Subtopic 2 III. Conclusion Writing the Informational Text • Instruct students to use their outline or graphic organizer as basis or guide for writing their informational text.	Episode 2 (Brainstorming and Choosing a Topic) at Informational Writing for Kids - Episode 2: Brainstorming & Choosing a Topic (youtube.com) Watch this video and gain ideas on how a simple outline can be made. Episode 3 (Making a Plan for Writing) at Informational Writing for Kids - Episode 3: Making a Plan (youtube.com) Watch the following videos for more information about the contents of an outline. Episode 4 (Writing an Introduction) at Informational Writing for Kids- Episode 4: Writing an Introduction (youtube.com)

	• Emphasize the importance of using clear and concise language, providing accurate facts, and organizing their information logically. • Circulate the classroom to provide guidance and support as needed. • Encourage students to use transition words and phrases to connect their ideas and make their writing flow smoothly. Editing and Revising • Explain to students the importance of editing and revising their writing to improve clarity and accuracy. • Model how to review and revise a sample paragraph from their informational text, focusing on grammar, punctuation, and sentence structure. • Encourage students to read their own writing aloud or exchange papers with a partner for peer editing. Finalizing the Informational Text • Instruct students to make any necessary revisions based on the editing process. • Provide time for students to neatly write or type their final draft of the informational text. • Collect the completed texts for assessment or allow students to share their work with the class. 2. Worked Example A. Writing an Outline Directions: 1. Think of a topic you are interested in. 2. Make a simple outline as shown in the video in Episode 3 and use the given template or format above. 3. Lesson Activity: Writing an Informational Text 1. Learners will write an informational text using the outline they have drafted. (Deepening Understanding for Subtopic 2 – Identify Real or Make-believe, Fact or Non-fact Images) for Day 2	Episode 5 (Writing a Draft) at Informational Writing for Kids - Episode 5: Writing a Draft (youtube.com) Episode 6 (Writing a Closing) at Informational Writing for Kids - Episode 6: Writing a Closing - YouTube

	1. Explicitation Let the students watch the video lesson on DepEd TV at Grade 6 English Q1 Ep6: Identifying Real or Make Believe Images or Statements (youtube.com) Process the video viewed by discussing further how to identify and differentiate real or make-believe, fact and non-fact images. Real or fact images are those that exist or are present in the real world and not merely products of one's imagination. Example: picture of a horse Make-believe or non-fact images are created by the mind, and they do not exist in reality. They are developed to entertain people's eyes and minds. Example: picture of a unicorn Identifying real images suggests that there is a basis for its existence. They are seen, felt, smelled, heard and even tasted. Identifying make-believe images means believing or knowing that these images are not real and not true because they are not seen, felt, smelled, heard nor tasted. 2. Worked Example Directions: 1. Display or distribute a mix of real and make-believe images and ask students to identify which ones are real and which ones are make-believe. 2. Encourage students to explain their choices. Discuss their answers in class and write them on the chart or board. 3. Lesson Activity Directions: 1. Students will be grouped into 4.

	4. Creates a Positive Feeling: A slogan is designed to make you feel good about the company or product. It often uses positive words or ideas to make you think that choosing them is a good decision. For example, a slogan for a toy company might be "Fun for Everyone!" This makes you feel excited and happy about playing with their toys. 5. Sets the Company or Product Apart: A slogan helps a company or product stand out from others. It tells you why they are different or better than their competitors. For example, a slogan for a sports shoe brand might be "Run Faster, Jump Higher!" This tells you that their shoes will help you perform better in sports. 2. Worked Example Creating a Slogan Directions: 1. Choose a topic from the given list. 2. Create your own slogan. 3. Present it in digital or print format. Topics: 1. Environmental Conservation 2. Kindness and Respect 3. Reading and Learning 4. Health and Fitness 3. Lesson Activity Let learners think of a possible business they want to own someday. Allow them to conceptualize their own product slogan. Have them visualize it through a drawing. Assess learners output using a rubric. Here is a simple rubric for making a slogan: 1. Creativity (4 points): The slogan is original and shows creative thinking. It is not a common phrase or copied from somewhere else. 2. Clarity (3 points): The slogan clearly represents the company, product, or idea it is promoting. It is easy to understand and does not confuse the audience. 3. Catchiness (3 points): The slogan is memorable and sticks in the mind of the audience. It uses words that sound nice together or have a rhythm to make it catchy.	Remember, a slogan is like a special phrase that represents a company or product. It should be short, catchy, and make you feel good about choosing them. Suggested activities: Engage students in a brainstorming activity where they come up with their own catchy headlines for given topics or scenarios. Engage students in a matching activity where they match given subtitles to their corresponding multimedia examples. Remember, this is just a basic rubric to guide you in creating a slogan. You can adjust the criteria or weights based on your specific needs and preferences. The most important thing is to let the students have fun and be

	4. Relevance (2 points): The slogan is relevant to the company, product, or idea it is promoting. It highlights the key features or benefits in an appropriate way. 6. Positive Feeling (2 points): The slogan creates a positive feeling about the company, product, or idea. It uses positive words or ideas to make the audience feel good about choosing them. 7. Presentation (1 point): The slogan is presented neatly and legibly. It is written or displayed in a way that is easy to read and understand. Here is another rubric for rating the slogan. Rubric for Rating Slogan <table><tr><th></th><th>4</th><th>3</th><th>2</th><th>1</th><th>Score</th></tr><tr><td>Craftmanship</td><td>Exceptionally attractive, neat, and well-constructed</td><td>Attractive, neat and construction is good</td><td>Acceptably attractive but a bit messy</td><td>Slogan is obviously messy</td><td></td></tr><tr><td>Creativity</td><td>Exceptionally creative. D. Making Generalizations	Generalization for Subtopic 1 (Produce a Text with Introduction, Body, and Conclusion in conveying Idea: Using Introduction, Body and Conclusion) for Day 1 Lesson Activity: Collaboration Engage in a collaborative discussion which would lead to the generalization of the lesson. Key Questions: 1. What does an informational text include? 2. What are the steps to follow in writing an informational text?	The following are the suggested activities for each subtopic. Thus, it is emphasized that the teacher is free to make variations on the provided activities for the betterment of the teaching and learning process.

	3. What is the importance of making an outline? 4. What are the parts of an informational text? 5. Were you able to write your own text using the procedures discussed in class? Generalization for Subtopic 2 (Identify Real or Make-believe, Fact or Non-fact Images) for Day 2 Ask the learners the following questions: 1. How can you tell if an image is real/fact or make- believe/non-fact? 2. Why is it important to differentiate between real/fact or make- believe/non-fact? Write the students' responses on the board/chart. Generalization for Subtopic 3 (Identify Multimedia Elements: Text – Headlines, Subtitles, Slogans) for Day 3 & 4 Discuss the importance of headlines and subtitles in enhancing understanding and guiding the audience through the content.	The teacher is reminded that activities provided are mostly collaborative to elicit class participation. Write down their answers on the board which will form the generalization of the lesson. Encourage learners to share their knowledge in class using their own words. Write down their ideas on the board.

Headline or Subtitle Read each item carefully and write on the space provided whether it is a headline or a subtitle. 1. "Olympic Gold Medalist Returns Home as Local Hero" _____ 2. "Local Community Comes Together to Support Homeless Shelter" _____ 3. "Unleashing Creativity through Art and Music" _____ 4. "Exploring the Wonders of the Solar System" _____ 5. "Filipino-American Wins Miss Universe, Proud Moment for the Philippines" _____ B. Slogan Check all slogans. Put an X to those which are not. _____ 1. Finger Lickin' Good _____ 2. Obey Your Thirst _____ 3. "Philippines Extends COVID-19 Lockdown Measures as Cases Surge" _____ 4. Pure Happiness _____ 5. "Fun and Educational Activities to Keep Kids Engaged During Summer Break"
B. Teacher's Remarks	Note observations on any of the following areas:	Effective Practices	Problems Encountered	The teacher may take note of some observations related to the effective practices and problems encountered after utilizing the different strategies, materials used, learner engagement and other related stuff. Teachers may also suggest ways to improve the different activities explored/lesson exemplar.
	strategies explored
	materials used
	learner engagement/ interaction
	Others

C. Teacher's Reflection	Reflection guide or prompt can be on: ▪ principles behind the teaching What principles and beliefs informed my lesson? Why did I teach the lesson the way I did? ▪ students What roles did my students play in my lesson? What did my students learn? How did they learn? ▪ ways forward What could I have done differently? What can I explore in the next lesson?	Teacher's reflection in every lesson conducted/ facilitated is essential and necessary to improve practice. You may also consider this as an input for the LAC/Collab sessions.
